Go Ahead.
Push a Button.

Unlock the DN-V755's full potential. Introducing the SW-755 Remote Control Interface – an innovation that's guaranteed to connect people with your digital sign content. The controller features an intuitive keypad with dedicated functions for externally controlling the DN-V755 player. At the heart of the controller are six dedicated keys that let you trigger playlist content. With one simple connection, your DN-V755 goes from a basic video player to a video on demand system. When people get involved, you get results.

Juice Up Your Display.

Want to turn even more heads? The SW-755-B features two AC power receptacles that independently switch on when triggered by a playlist. You can use this unique feature to remotely activate lights, mechanical displays, audio, security devices, or kiosk lighting. Add motion detection with the MD755 to automatically play a particular video program the moment someone's nearby*. No other visual messaging interface offers this kind of control and flexibility.

Deliver the Message, Loud and Clear.

Without sound, your digital signs stand only half a chance of making an impression. With the SW-755's integrated amplifier and speaker, audio taken from the DN-V755 is heard directly through the controller itself, without needing any other external amplifiers or complicated connections. Listening is up-close and personal, and won't conflict with other room sound.
